You could also benefit from:

- Automatic payment discounts

Question:

Do I have to wait for my current policy to expire before I apply?

Answer:

You may choose to switch to Farmers GroupSelect policies at any time. There's no need to wait for your current policy — or policies — to expire or for open enrollment.

Question:

What would happen to my insurance policies if I left or retired from my employer?

Answer:

Your Farmers GroupSelect policies would remain in force unless you canceled them². In some cases, discounts based on your employment (such as group discounts or payroll deduction discounts) would be removed when your employment ended. In other cases, those discounts would remain until the end of your policy period².

If you make automatic insurance payments through payroll deduction, your policy would be moved to direct billing. You would also have the option to continue automatic payments via bank withdrawals or credit/debit card³ payments.
