Dear <Member First Name> <Member Last Name> (ID: <Member ID>):

Our records show you may be using drug manufacturer copay assistance programs such as copay coupons or debit cards to help cover the cost of your specialty medications. You will still be able to use these programs and benefit from the reduction in your out-of-pocket cost. However, as of 09/01/2019, the amount reflected in your annual deductible and/or maximum out-of-pocket expenses will be your actual expense rather than the value of the coupon or other copay assistance.

Example:

If your specialty medication copay is $90, and a coupon or debit card for an $80 discount is used, the amount you pay is $10. That actual $10 expense will be applied to your annual deductible or maximum out-of-pocket expenses.
