

University of Arkansas System Privacy Policy

The University of Arkansas System is committed to your right to privacy. Any and all information collected on this website is kept strictly confidential and is not disclosed without prior consent. If you have any questions, please contact us.

Resale or disclosure of information to third parties:

- The UA System does not sell, rent, loan, trade, or lease any personal information collected on our site.
- The UA System in some cases analyzes web site logs and first-person cookies to constantly improve the value of the materials available on related websites. The web site logs and cookies are not personally identifiable, and we make no attempt to link them with the individuals who browse the site.

Use of cookies:

- Cookies may be used on some areas of UA System websites
- The UA System may use cookies to make the use of our web site easier for visitors and to facilitate efficient registration procedures. In most cases, a visitor can refuse a cookie and still fully navigate the site.

Collection of Personally Identifiable Information:

- The UA System collects very little personally identifiable information from visitors. Usually, data is only collected when a visitor requests additional information, registers for specialized areas of the site, or voluntarily submits information or comments.
- As a public entity, eVersity is required to comply with the Arkansas Freedom of Information Act (FOI) (Ark. Code Ann. § 25-19-101) and may be required to disclose public records maintained by the University unless such records are specifically exempted by federal or state law.

Use of Personally Identifiable Information:

- Information obtained by the site is used only for the intended purpose stated when information is collected. Data is not used for secondary or unrelated purposes, or shared with a third party, unless otherwise disclosed at the point of collection. If their information may be shared, visitors will be asked for permission beforehand.
